

Accounts Receivable

Registers the payment of documents from Billing. The payment of every document is subject to the existence of an invoice. Generates multiple account status models per client.

